

FY 20 - July 1, 2019 to June 30, 2020

Division of $17.49 Tax Rate

The Excess Levy Capacity (the amount below Proposition 2½ Limit) for this year is $1,376,339.97

The Board of Selectmen and Finance Committee appreciate the difficulty people are facing in these uncertain economic times and are trying along with all boards, commissions and staff to operate town government in the most efficient manner possible. The local tax rate set this year was stable and demonstrated an increased investment in public safety, public works, insurance costs, debt services for equipment and projects, regional school assessment, other intergovernmental assessments and Citizen Petition for North Pond Acquisition. The town's valuation has increased from $1,087,929,987 in fiscal year 2019 to $1,150,727,503 in fiscal year 2020.

Town government has worked hard to hold down expenses and will continue to look for savings by reviewing all programs and services on an annual basis and by working with both state and federal representatives to make sure Southwick receives its fair share of both state and federal aid.

HOW PROPERTY TAXES ARE DETERMINED

Assessors are required by Massachusetts law to value all real and personal property within their community. They value every property, from single-family residences to commercial and industrial enterprises. Assessors do not make the laws that affect property owners. Tax laws are enacted by the Massachusetts Legislature. Guidelines and regulations to implement the legislation are established by the Massachusetts Department of Revenue. Assessors follow the procedures established by others to set the value of property. Value is actually set by property buyers and sellers as they establish the worth of comparable properties through their transactions in the real estate marketplace.

Assessors do not determine taxes. The level of property taxation is determined by the Town through its Town Meeting. Similarly, the Assessors don't decide who is entitled to relief on their property tax bills through exemptions; Assessors simply follow the Massachusetts state law.

Valuation in Massachusetts is based on "full and fair cash value," the amount a buyer would pay a seller on the real estate marketplace. Assessors must collect, record, and analyze a great deal of information about property and market characteristics in order to estimate the fair market value of all taxable properties in their communities. Properties such as churches and educational institutions are also valued, even though they are exempt from taxation.

Size, type, and quality of construction, number of rooms, baths, fireplaces, type of heating system - are all examples of the data listed on individual property record cards before the valuation process can begin. Assessors may not have to go inside each property before every revaluation if records are kept up-to-date and building permits are checked and recorded for changes in individual properties.

Finding the "full and fair cash value" or "market value" of a property involves discovering what similar properties are selling for, what the property would cost today to replace, and what financial factors, such as interest rates, may be affecting the real estate market. Valuation techniques for commercial and industrial properties also include analysis from an investment point of view, since the purchase price the buyer is willing to pay depends in part on the return he/she expects to receive.

Assessors submit the community's values to the Massachusetts Department of Revenue every five years for certification. Values are maintained by the Assessors during the years between certifications so that each property taxpayer in the community pays his/her fair share of the cost of local government – no more or less – in proportion to the amount of money the property is worth.

The Town Meeting adopts a budget that reflects the funds to be raised through the levy and the additional funds from other sources, such as state aid and local receipts from fees and user charges. Finally, the amount to be collected from the property tax (called the "levy"), is divided among the local taxpayers in proportion to the value of their property
